

Join the NKBA Chicago Chapter & NARI on Tuesday, May 17, 2011 as we team up to bring you a great evening of networking and education. Members of both associations look forward to this annual event.

This year we are honored and excited to present:

Ken Jones

Business Consultant, Speaker, Coach, Facilitator

Director of Wolff Center for Entrepreneurship, University of Houston MYOBusiness, Principal & Founder

For more than 25 years, Ken Jones has been both an active practitioner and dedicated coach in the field of entrepreneurship. He has experienced success and failure, has guided business owners through difficult times, and as a result has identified core strategies aimed at providing seasoned entrepreneurs, and those just starting out, with measurable results. Ken shares his experiences gained creating, building and selling businesses to every group he addresses, and he delivers all this in a no-holds-barred performance where you'll find humor in your circumstances and leave with tangible strategies to improve your business.

Mr. Jones is a national speaker/instructor for the NKBA – National Kitchen and Bath Association, teaching and consulting to business owners in our industry. He will conduct an education session entitled “Better Business Strategies” at the Kitchen & Bath Industry Show this April in Las Vegas.

His background includes an array of responsibilities with documented success in the areas of entrepreneurial development, turnaround management consulting, software development and implementation, and e-business creation. Mr. Jones’ background also includes experience in financial management, sales management and strategic marketing.

Mr. Jones is a Silver Fox Advisor and the Director of the Wolff Center for Entrepreneurship at The University of Houston. He has an undergraduate degree from Bucknell University in Pennsylvania and received his MBA from the University of Houston
