Don't be the victim of an avoidable accident—either physically or financially! Doug Dikun from Corkill Safety Services will cover the top 10 objections to having a safety program, why it is important and how to reasonably implement one. He will also hold an interactive of hazards, both obvious and hidden, that remodelers face on the job site. And finally, he will cover miscellaneous safety topics such as ladders and stairs, power tools, and personal protective equipment.

This is a great “refresher” for all of your guys in the field, so feel free to bring as many as you want!

Doug is with Corkill Safety Services. Corkill Safety Services is committed to reducing workplace injuries and business interruptions that can take a costly toll on a company's financial wellbeing. They partner with their customers to identify and target hazards within their organizations and then pursue sound solutions to combat these situations and generate positive results quickly.
